Breakdown Maintenance in SAP Asset Management

In SAP Asset Management following procedure is followed for creation of “Breakdown maintenance order” Whenever the breakdown occurred notification is generated either by maintenance department.

It is created through IW21.

Notification contains the information about breakdown like: Machine number(equipment number), location of equipment, person reported, time & date of breakdown, required maintenance date, part damaged, damage reason, task to be performed, etc.

Once the notification is generated then it is released.

Maintenance supervisor then creates the maintenance order w r t notification. Order can be generated by IW31 transaction.

Maintenance order bears the details of operations to be performed, person by whom to be performed, machine details, costing details, etc.

Once the maintenance order process sequence is as follows.

- Create Maintenance Order (IW31) & then Release order
- Order confirmation IW41
- Create settlement rule
- Technically completion of maintenance order (TECO)
- Settlement (K088)
- Business Completion (IW32)

Create breakdown maintenance order IW31

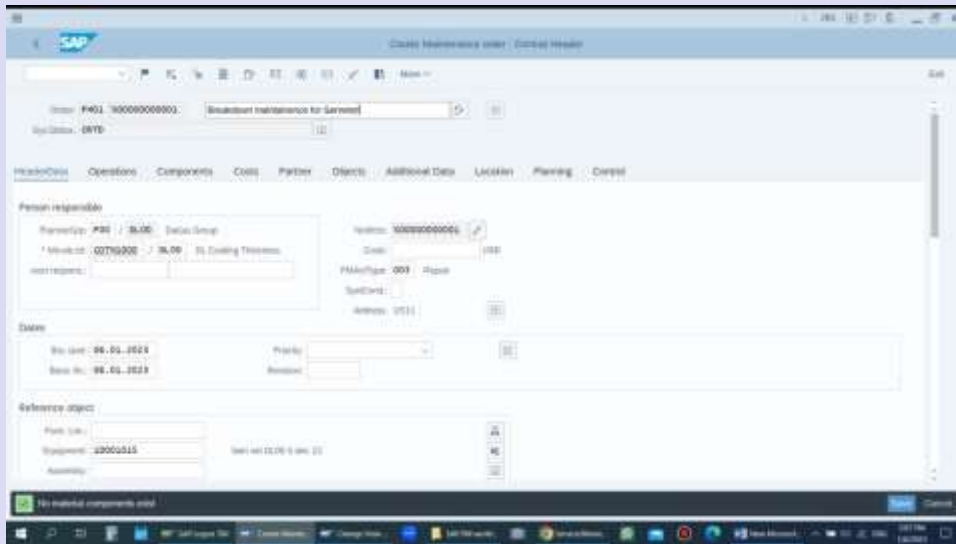

Entre all the details like order type, equipment, plant, business area

Under “header” overview, entre operation, planner group, planning plant, work center, plant maintenance activity type, basic start/finish date.

Maintenance notification (IW21) will be auto created as maintenance notification no visible in screen shot

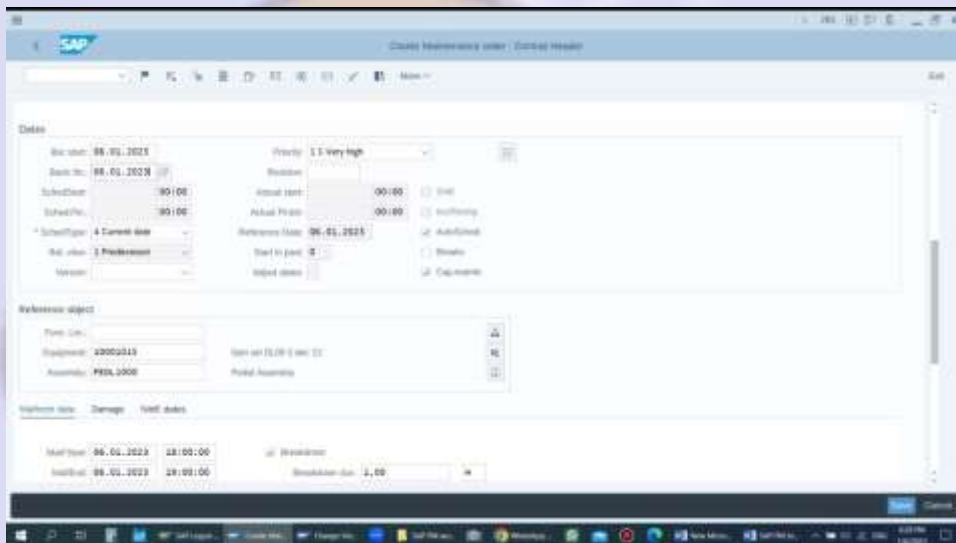

Equipment no will be auto populated.

Entre assembly of the equipment

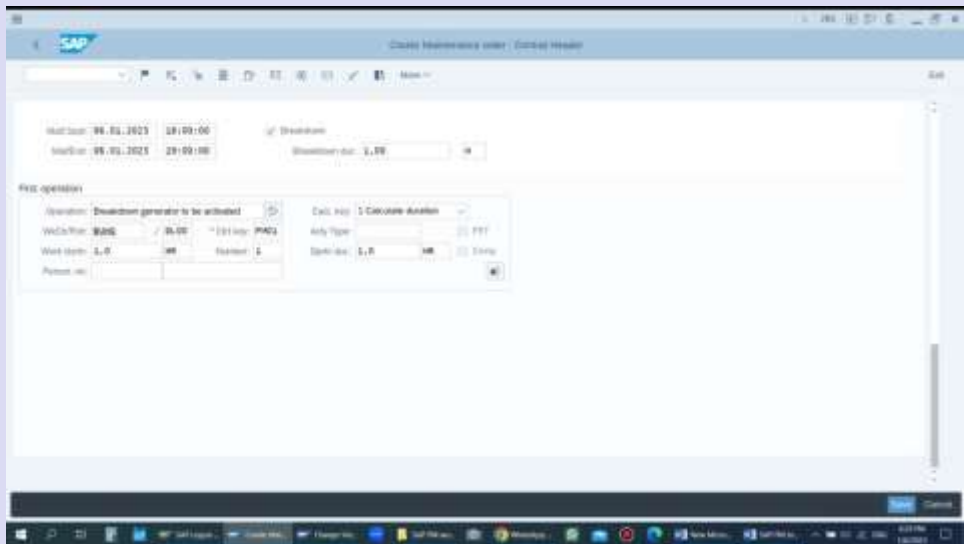

Malfunction start date, malfunction end date (expected)

Expected breakdown duration

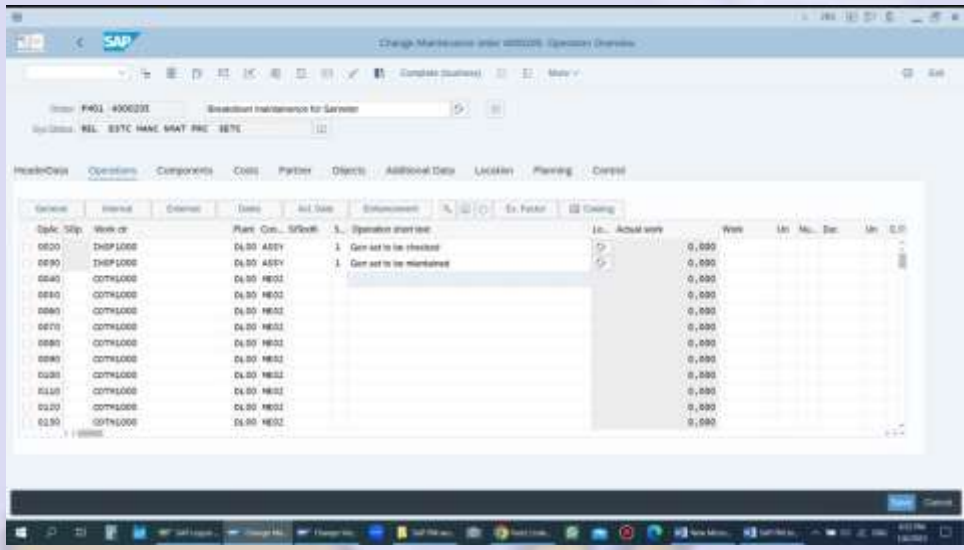

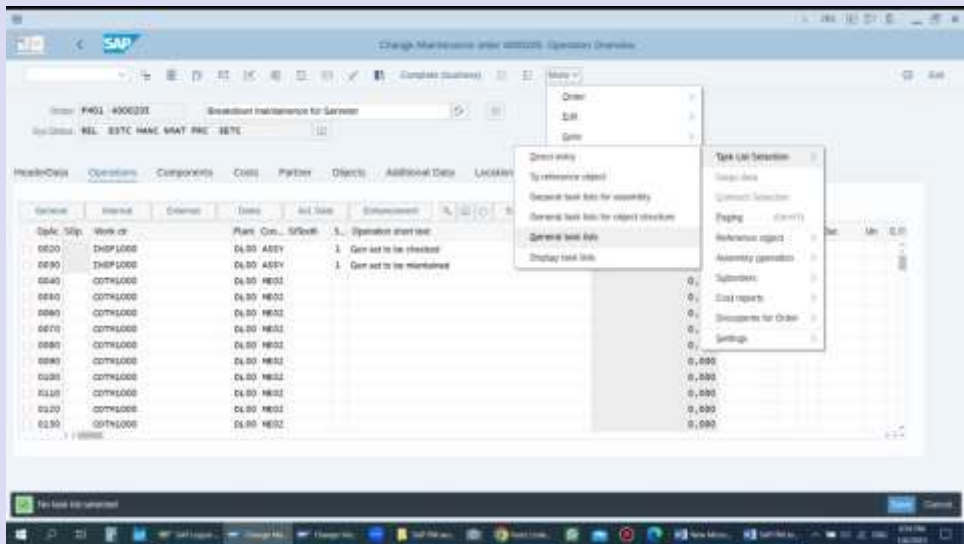

Entre work center, planning plant

Control key "PM01" plant maintenance entre, calculation key, work duration, operation duration

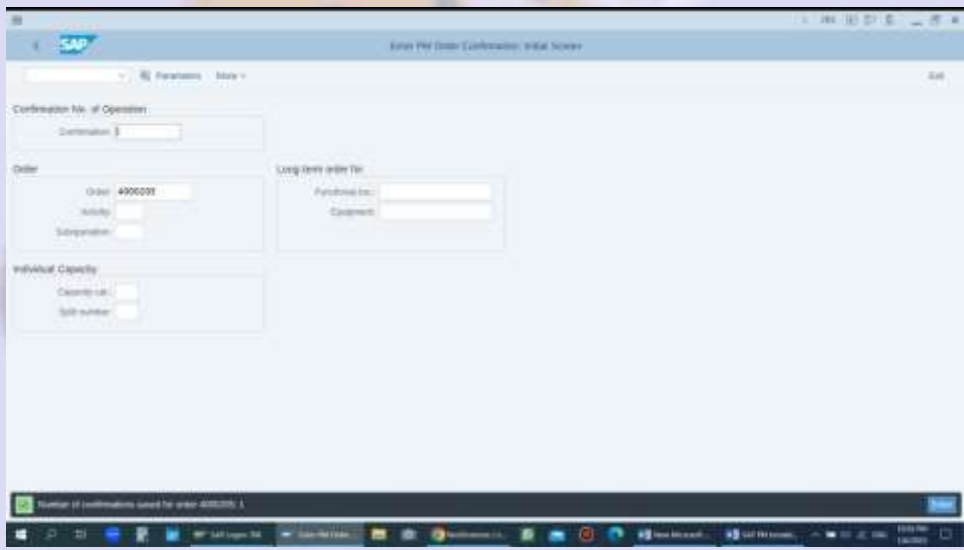

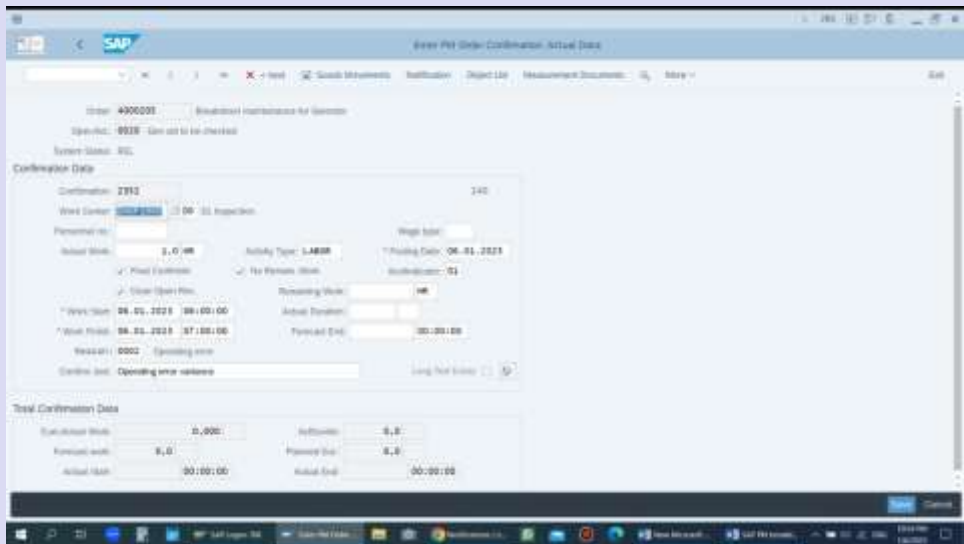

Go over to "Operations" overview & entire task list already created

Save order. Change order & release it
Go over to IW41 (order confirmation) & confirm each task

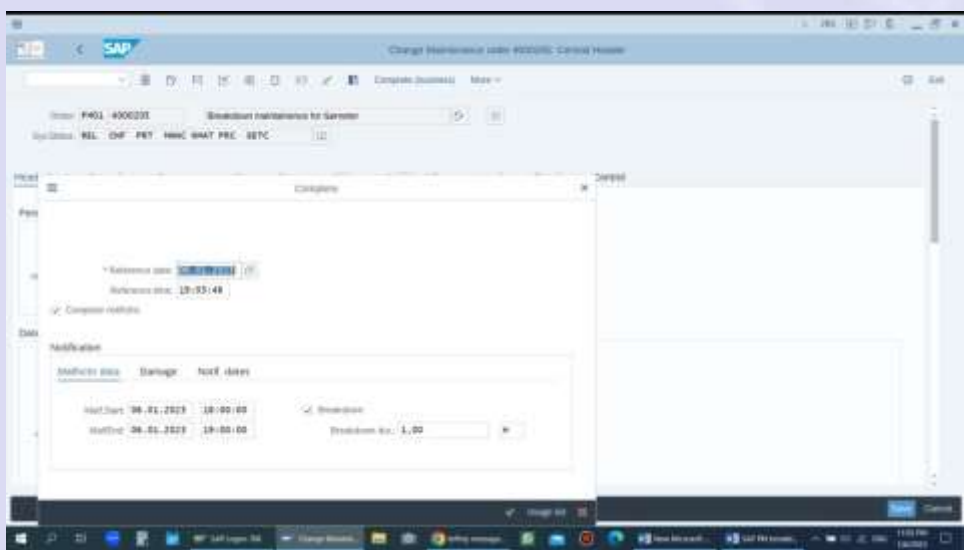

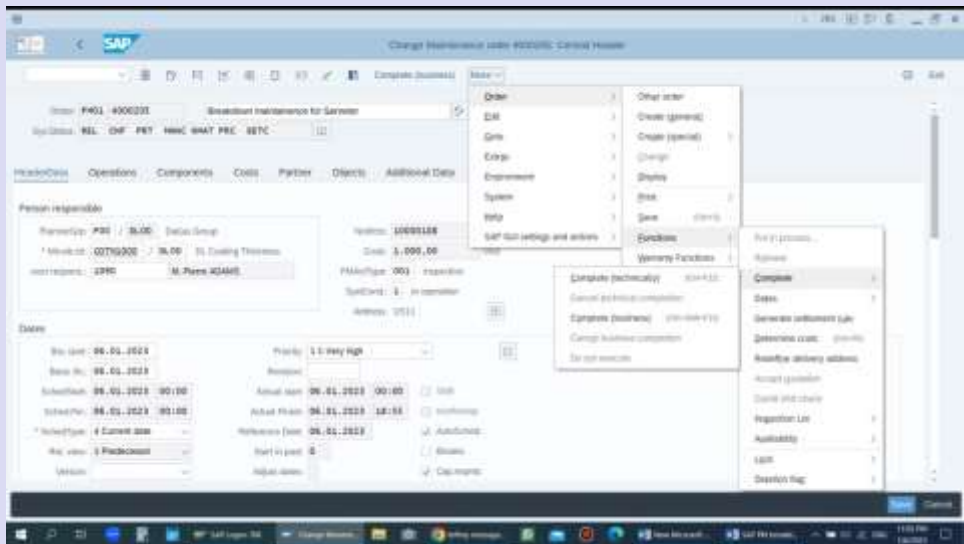

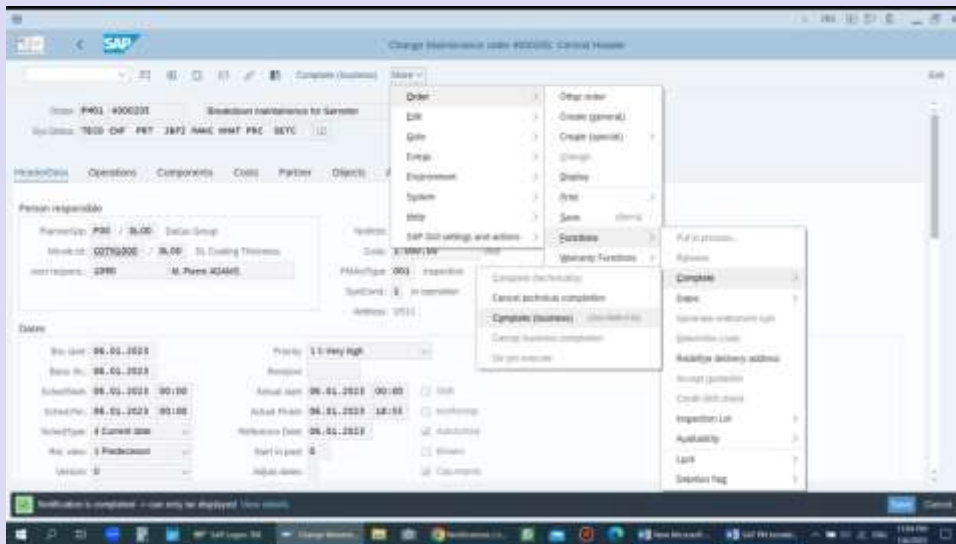

Change maint order & create settlement rule

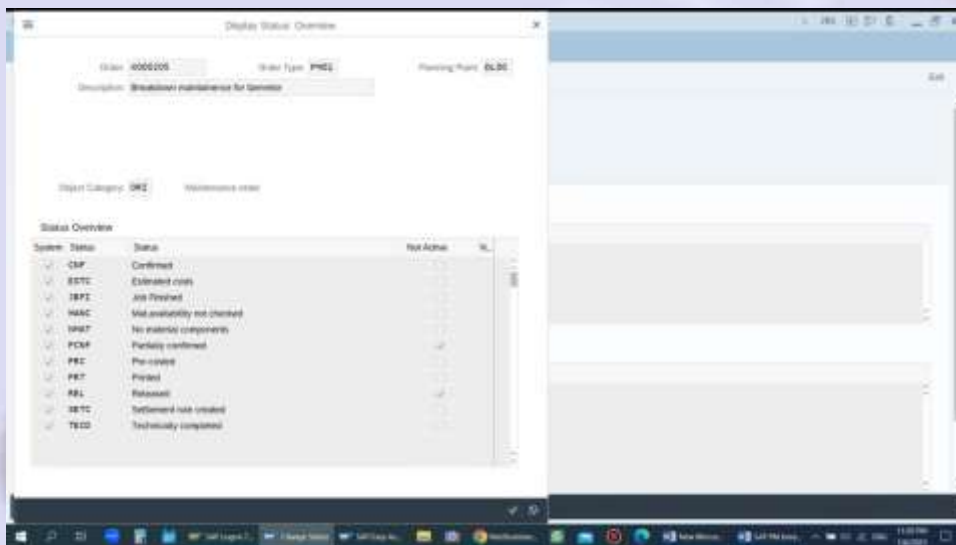

Complete order technically (TECO)

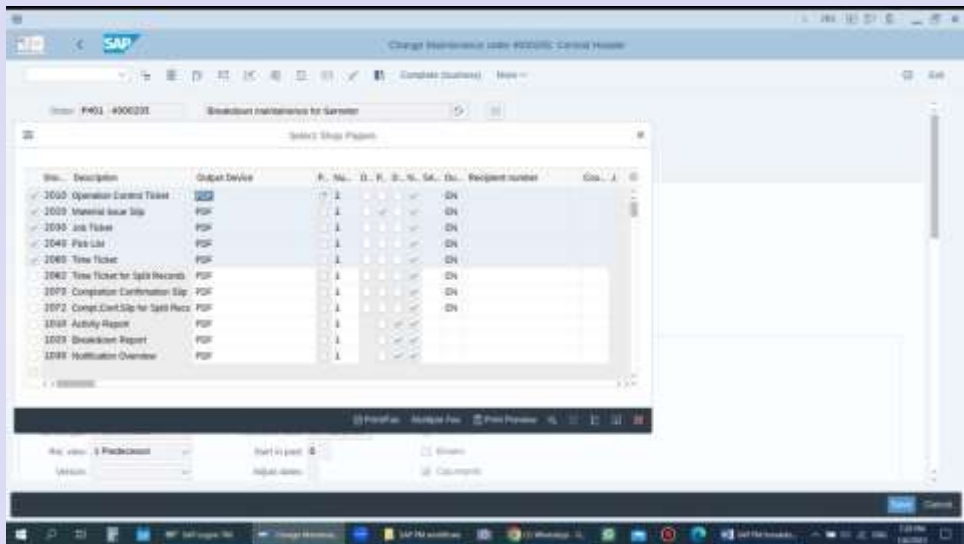

Order settlement is done T code K088. But in this case since no cost involved so not required over here. Then finally "business completion"

Please see carefully overall status of breakdown maint order
